Suggestions for Improvement:	McKayla did so well in my classroom - I was quite impressed. My suggestion at this point would only be the type of voice she uses with the children. For example, when she's talking to them one-on-one, she talks in a "baby voice" rather than talking to them with a normal voice. I know it's natural thing to talk in a smaller voice with small children, but it does harm their speech development.

General Comments:	I really enjoyed McKayla. I was impressed at how well she interacted with the kids. She knew names and by the 3rd day, she knew a lot of their likes/dislikes. I was also impressed by her use of the toys in the room - not just handing them out to play, but interacting with them as they played. I think she will make a great teacher.
